On-line math assessment (Required but not graded)

An on-line math assessment assignment will be due by the end of the second week of class. It is administered through the same website as the problem sets. It is required but will not be graded.

Problem assignments (20% of course grade)

Problem sets will be available after the material has been presented in lecture. All problem sets will be entered and graded through Aplia. The final due date for all the assignments will be Wednesday, May 14th at 11 p.m., the day after the final exam. Each Aplia assignment can be take up to three times with only the highest score entered.

Attendance/participation/evaluation (up to 5% extra credit)

In-class polls will be taken in each lecture. The polls will be administered through an online service called Poll Everywhere through texting on cell phones or laptops or tablet computers. The service is free to students but registration is required. More details in class.

Exams (20% each for the midterm exams and 40% for the final exam)

Exams will be closed book and cover textbook readings, lectures, and problems and any other material presented in class or posted on the class website. They will consist of multiple-choice, short-answer essay questions and quantitative analysis. The Midterm II exam will only cover material after Midterm I. The Final Exam will be comprehensive. Any formulas required to answer the questions will be provided. Only a calculator and pen/pencil will be needed for the exams – no bluebook or extra paper.

Email

In general, before and after class or during office-hours is the best way to touch base with me. However, I do periodically check my email and will be happy to answer questions as long as they don't require too much explanation. However, if you send me an email within 24 hours of any exam or assignment deadline, I may not be able to respond before the exam/due date.

Class Website

There are two websites used in this class. The first has links to the class syllabus and any exam review material, extra credit material, and any other information regarding the class not listed on the syllabus but announced in class.

The second website is the Aplia website where the class problem sets are administered. Your textbook package should include a registration card with instructions on how to access Aplia.
